Football | Tue, Nov. 16, 2021

WICHITA, Kan. - The Kansas Collegiate Athletic Conference is pleased to announce the 2021 Football All-Conference selections and individual award winners as voted on by the head coaches.

Southwestern, Kansas Wesleyan, and Bethel, who all ended up with 9-1 conference records at the end of the regular season, each had coaches and athletes earn the conference's individual awards that are handed out at the end of the season.

The Moundbuilders' head coach, Brad Griffin, took home the Coach of the Year award in a unanimous decision by his peers. Southwestern's offensive coordinator, James Bauer, earned the Assistant Coach of the Year honor. The Moundbuilders' Gabe Medrano was named the Special Teams Player of the Year.

Kansas Wesleyan's Isaiah Randalle was named the conference's Player of the Year, and was also named the Co-Offensive Player of the Year alongside Chantz Scurry of Bethel. The Threshers also saw one of their own earn the Defensive Player of the Year honor, as linebacker Josh Seabolt earned that honor for the second season in a row.

Ethan Richardson of Sterling College was named the Dr. Ted Kessinger Champion of Character award winner.
